Unleash the Potential of Your People

www.mtceurope.co.uk

Since 2004, MTC has been supplying the Army, Navy, RAF and Tri – Services with Award Winning experiential learning kit and concepts and has trained over 5,000 Military personnel during this time in topics such as Inspirational Leadership, Creating High Performance Teams, Conflict to Collaboration, Emotional Intelligence and 2 levels (Phase I and Phase II – Advanced) of “Train the Trainer” Master Practitioner in Professional Facilitation Skills.

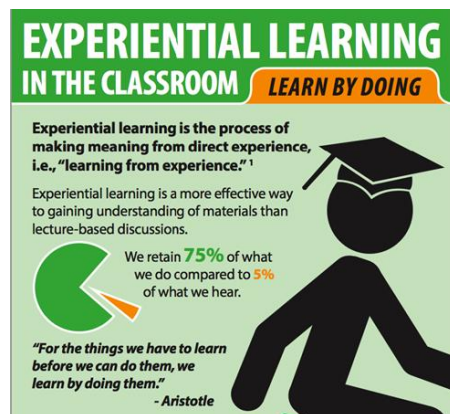

Many of the “feeder schools and colleges” into the Military through CCF’s, ATC’s etc also use MTC equipment in their development of their pupils.

Many Schools and Colleges are applying the MTC philosophies across all walks of education; from Prefect/ Head Pupil Training to Cadet Leadership Training including Social Skills and Enterprise concepts.

The benefits to the pupil are many:

- ❖ Key Skills Stages 2-5 and Sixth Form are some areas where MTC is making learning FUN for younger students.
- ❖ Amazing results in the increase in self-esteem, self-confidence, self-belief, self-awareness, respect, motivation, communication skills, leadership, social skills, personal development, career preparation etc
- ❖ Developing the individual emotional intelligence capacity to develop self-awareness of personality styles, and helping them in their personal and domestic relationships with conflict management techniques. Increased decision making, effective problem solving and Team Working skills.
- ❖ Developing self-worth in job seeking and “Career Planning” initiatives
- ❖ Personalising students’ learning experience from 8 – 19 year olds.

CCF's, ATC's, Public Services Training

MTC have provided experiential learning kits, concepts and training to over 150 Schools, Colleges and Universities where Several ATC Squadrons have secured funding to purchase their own MTC kit and we have delivered "Train the Trainer" Workshops at these locations e.g. Sqdn 1343 E. Grinstead, Sqdn 2419 Quedgeley, Merseyside Wing ATC, Jersey ATC, 248 Squadron and several Reservists Squadrons etc. etc.

MTC is also very active in working with many CCF's and Public Services Courses within many Colleges and Universities around the UK who have also purchased MTC kits and training where they utilise the MTC kits and concepts to deliver; Leadership, Problem Solving and Decision Making, Self Confidence, Self Esteem, Self and Other Awareness through Emotional Intelligence development, professional Communication Skills, Conflict Resolution / Management, Respect, influencing skills... and many more topics.

All of these emotional intelligent behaviours are critical for delegates who are considering a career with the RAF, Army, Navy, Tri-Services, Police (MTC have been commissioned by Surrey Police to deliver Leadership and Service Excellence) and all of the other "blue-light" services.

There is a high probability that any Public Services student who enters any of the Military Services will experience MTC experiential learning activities since the RAF, Army and Navy have ALL incorporated MTC activities into their recruitment and inauguration training sessions.

MTC were commissioned at a strategic level with the RAF when we partnered together to deliver the "Leadership at Every Level" initiative where MTC trained RAF personnel on a "Train the Trainer" course to apply MTC activities to the strategy which was then rolled out across all of the RAF.

The 5 RAF pillars of Leadership Development, Air Warfare, Ethos, Common Military Skills and Deployed Operations Training make up the FD in both formal training and station based activity.

In supporting these 5 pillars the RAF already recognises Mobile Team Challenge for successfully providing:

- World Leading Training Equipment
- Train the Trainer Certification
- Appreciative Inquiry Training
- Conflict Resolution Workshops
- Emotional Intelligence development within the RAF
- Coaching and NLP Certification
- Leadership Development Models and Leadership Styles
- Myers Briggs, Belbin, Emotional Intelligence Personality Profiling
- Teambuilding and Team Development
- Maximising Performance Programmes

Our National advertising campaigns entitled “Creating a POSITIVE Future for our Youth” - have seen great interest and success from all areas of Youth Workers, Teachers and careers advisors.

Even Ofsted, who commented earlier this year that “...teachers were delivering boring lessons...” are strong supporters of the MTC experiential learning concepts.

Dame Kelly Holmes visiting Stevenage Schools Partnership participating in a Mobile Team Challenge experience

Schools who use MTC have seen:

- ❖ An improved communication amongst pupils.
- ❖ A greater understanding of how to problem solve amongst pupils which is transferred into the classroom.
- ❖ Games and tasks have been integrated into the school's syllabus
- ❖ Pupils who have been a part of an experiential learning program have engaged in other lessons better.
- ❖ Pupils handle conflict and disputes better.
- ❖ Allows less confident pupils to take on leadership roles in a safe environment.
- ❖ It gives pupils an opportunity to use a sense of 'Growth Mindset'.
- ❖ Experiential learning is a catalyst that gets even the most apathetic and resistant of young people to really “Engage in Learning”.
- ❖ It provides numerous opportunities for positive assessment, which is used constructively and deliberately to build self-confidence, self-esteem and personal self-worth for young people enabling them to build a healthy self-image or to repair a damaged one.
- ❖ It improves skills in decision-making, problem-solving, planning, assertiveness and self-control and these have been proven to reduce Youth Offending and other destructive behaviours.
- ❖ The kit comes with a learning outcomes matrix which helps teachers in lesson plans.

● Creating a Positive Future for Young People with MTC

Over the past 10 years the Mobile Team Challenge equipment has been adopted by many hundreds of youth organisations worldwide to create a positive and lasting change in the lives of the children and young people they support. Now, more than four hundred organisations worldwide look to the Mobile Team Challenge solution to provide them with powerful on-site activity and development programmes to create a positive future for their young people. One of the keys to the success, effectiveness and widespread use of the MTC approach is its power to engage, challenge and educate in a 100% interactive way. Used by all agencies involved with youth and community development and education it provides a unique and widely utilised resource. This includes Schools, Youth Offending Teams, Education and/or Social Services departments, Positive Futures projects, Police Forces, Military Outreach programmes, Rehabilitation Centres, Connexions Partnerships, Correctional Centres, Youth Justice Organisations, Health Authority, Local Authority, Probation, Youth Services, and the voluntary sector.

Extensive feedback from MTC users confirm that the tools we provide play an important, and in some cases, critical role in the success of initiatives that address the following areas of concern:

- Individual development and life skills
- Employment prospects and social skills
- Youth Offending and Re-offending
- School and Social Exclusion
- Substance Abuse
- Truancy
- Homelessness
- Family Problems
- Poor Health
- Poor Academic Performance

Used both inside and outside of a wide range of youth and community organisations around the world, MTC works to resolve the above issues effectively providing the following benefits:

- MTC is a catalyst that gets even the most apathetic and resistant of young people to really "Engage in Learning".
- It provides numerous opportunities for positive assessment, which is used constructively and deliberately to build self-confidence, self esteem and personal self-worth for young people
- It improves skills in decision-making, problem-solving, planning, assertiveness and self-control and these have been proven to reduce Youth Offending and other destructive behaviours.
- It enhances thinking, personal and inter-personal skills and, unlike many sports, MTC is accessible to everyone regardless of age, physical or mental ability or skill level. It therefore provides a "level playing field" on which young people can have fun, learn and develop more positive, constructive and socially acceptable behaviours.

The following pages give an overview of our complete range of experiential learning kits.

As mentioned on the telephone, the most popular kit with Schools and the more adventurous activities start with the Standard Kit – which is the kit that has the beams and spiders web etc.

The Standard + Performance Kits include a 1 day (for Standard) or 2 days (for Performance), on-site, Facilitator Training Workshop for up to 12 people. This is a professional, CPD Accredited Course in Facilitation which covers the following:

- An overview of all activities Standard Kit (53 Activities) or Performance Kit (136 Activities)
- Appreciative Inquiry Facilitation Techniques – applying the learning into school / home life
- David Kolb's Learning Cycle and the power of Experiential Learning
- How to integrate MTC experiential learning into your Schools curriculum
- How to design experiential activities to match the desired learning outcome for the student e.g. Problem Solving, Decision-Making, Self-Awareness etc
- Health and Safety and Risk Assessment of in-house adventure activities
- How to develop: Respect, Motivation, Problem-Solving Skills, Citizenship, Self Confidence, Social Skills, Trust, Team Working Skills, Collaboration, Leadership and Communication Skills

Delegates will learn how to utilise the MTC Activities / Outcome Matrix. Simply choose the learning outcome required on the vertical axis and cross reference it to the relevant MTC activity in the horizontal axis. There are more than 1 MTC activity per outcome so that the teacher can use a different activity in a later lesson in order to emphasize the learning intervention

If you require any further information or, when you are ready for us to visit to deliver a 3-hour demonstration, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Testimonials

Mobile Team Challenge's unique approach to Accelerated Learning and Development, through utilisation of MTC techniques, produce outstanding results, highly energised and motivated attendees; some of whose comments have been:

"MTC provides a dynamic, hands on and thought provoking approach to training and development. You cannot buy trust or teamwork but MTC enables you to develop these attributes very effectively."
(Pete Hughes, RAF Cosford)

'A very rich and valuable training experience' (RAF Innsworth)

'...A new dimension to our leadership and development programmes...'
(Chrys Murphy MBE, Wing Commander, RAF)

"MTC is about building on success, to bring about even more success"
(Brett Nicholls, RAF School of Training)

"I wanted to write a short note to thank you both for such an excellent MTC course last week. I thoroughly enjoyed the two days and found the Appreciative Inquiry. approach fascinating. I think you have tremendous training medium in the MTC equipment. More importantly, the positive-framing. approach to facilitation is extremely powerful and when combined with the first class challenges, lead to a very rich and valuable training experience. Crucially, you both believe and live. the concept and that message came across loud and clear. Thank you both once again for your energy and enthusiasm that bought the whole two days to life. Best wishes and please keep up the great work".
(Squadron Leader Paul Bate, RAF Innsworth)

"MTC Training enhances existing leadership and team building activities and improves other training exercises".
(Pamela Murray, RAF LTPD School of PT)

"The most enjoyable and thought provoking course I have ever attended"
(David Jordan, Prison Officer)

"The MTC approach shows that the glass is "half full" and not "half empty". It will work within most organisations"
(Dennis Griffiths, Prison Officer)

"There are many valuable aspects to the MTC approach that develop communication, flexibility, trust, teamwork, etc. This can all be related and the lessons learnt transferred to work and life in general"
(Stuart Cooper, Prison Education Officer, HMP)

"The MTC Training course was very professional, great fun and packed full of great information"
